

Bringing innovation
to professional training

We're different.

Of course, everybody says that. But we are. Look at this brochure, for example. Not what you'd usually expect from a training company. It's bright (a bit like us), original (a lot like us) and accessible (like our teaching style).

But that's not all. We're committed to bringing out the best in our students and doing it in an enjoyable way. We focus on bringing our subjects to life - it's easier to learn that way - and making what we teach relevant.

Ultimately, we want to see you pass as much as you do, and we have developed a range of innovative training tools to make sure that is exactly what happens. To prove how confident we are of our methods, we have a don't pass, don't pay policy. So you really do have nothing to lose by choosing us.

Who we are:

Lesley Millar FCCA, ACIS

There's nothing Lesley can't put her mind to. Having started her career in an accountancy practice in Scotland, Lesley then worked as a Manager of the Client Accounting department of Credit Suisse Trust before moving into full time training and consultancy.

She has worked in a wide variety of roles, from internal audit, operational excellence projects, post merger integration roles to new business set up and lecturing professional education. Lesley has spent ten years delivering and writing course material for all levels of the ICSA syllabus along with various ACCA papers and bespoke in-house training.

A keen academic, Lesley is a Certified Accountant, a Chartered Secretary and has Level 2 in Teacher Training, a certificate in International Accounting Standards and a Lean Sigma project management qualification.

Angus Kemp MA (Hons), CertAcc, CA, MBA, MEd

Angus knows about accountancy. In his work as a chartered accountant, he has gained broad commercial experience both within practice and industry. And as a director of his own Chartered Accountancy practice, he has an enviable reputation and an extensive client portfolio.

He also knows about education. In 1995 he established Offshore Training Consortium in Guernsey, which was subsequently acquired by BPP Plc, and has enjoyed excellent levels of success as a tutor of professional qualification students since before that.

So you know you're in safe hands, especially when you consider his academic credentials too. Which include an MA in Economics and Politics, a Postgraduate Certificate in Accountancy, a Teaching Certificate, an MBA and a Masters degree in Education.

Sara Gascoigne FCCA, BA (Hons)

Education can really take you places. Ask Sara. She spent four years in Cayman, BVI, Bermuda, Barbados, Gibraltar and the Channel Islands lecturing both privately and with BPP. She delivered all levels of the ICSA syllabus from COFA to Professional and also wrote and provided bespoke in-house training to some of the offshore world's most prominent companies.

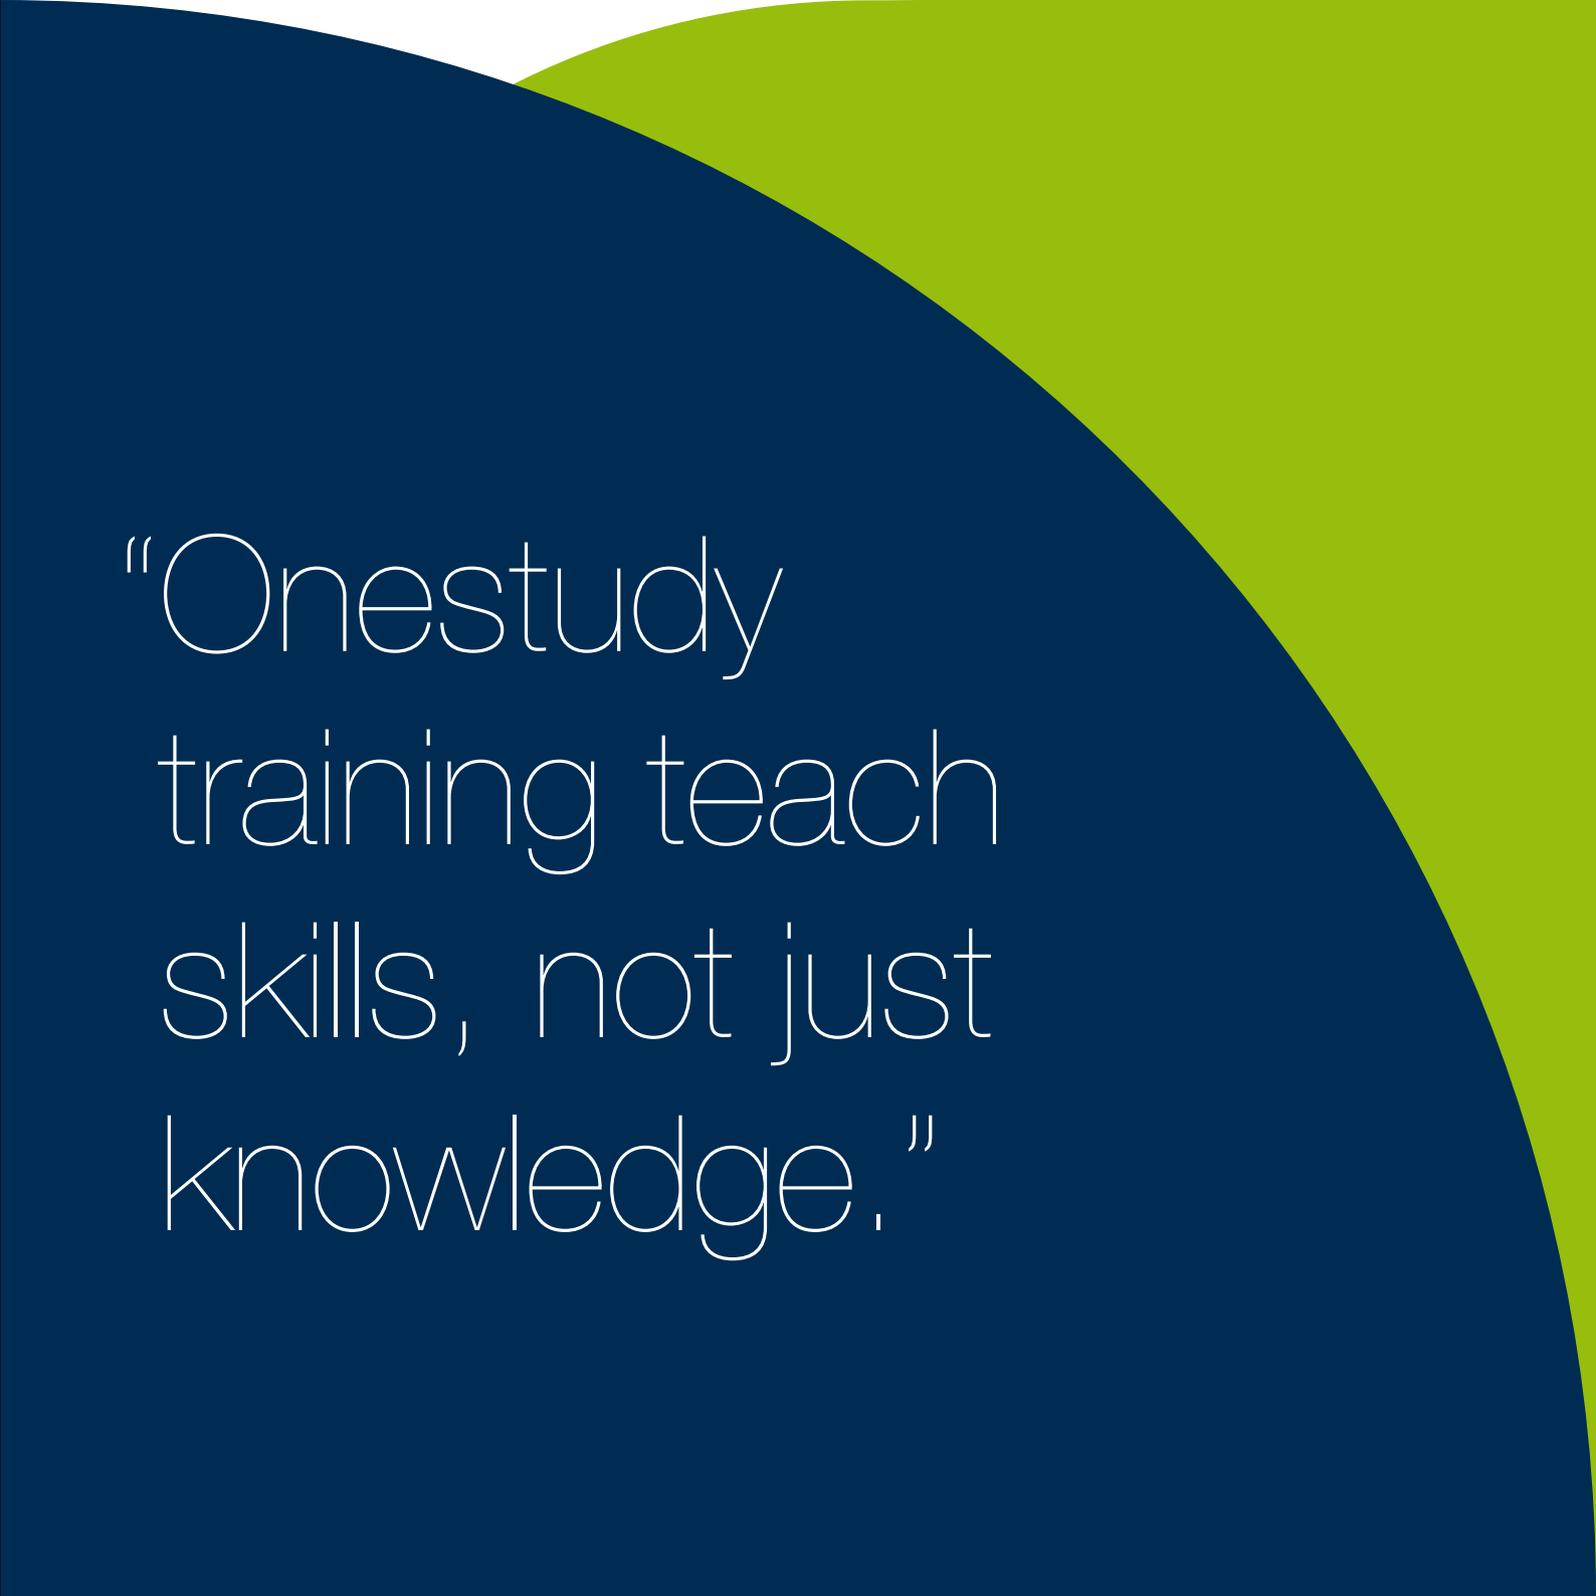

Before moving into consultancy, she worked first for Price Waterhouse Coopers, then as a trust company director. These positions enabled her to gain a broad range of experience, covering everything from merger and acquisition projects to new business set up.

A qualified programme manager and consummate entrepreneur, Sara returned to Jersey to pursue her business interests, maintaining her lecturing skills by delivering a variety of courses to an ever receptive audience.

Bespoke courses, course plans and notes

Bespoke courses

We aren't just experts in running exam-based courses. We also host a range of courses throughout the year that are not qualification based but do have practical application. These are open to the public and have been specifically designed with the Channel Islands workplace in mind.

But we understand that sometimes your training requirements will differ from standard templates. So we also provide tailored in-house training to businesses. Choose this option and we will come to your offices and deliver a training programme that is based around your unique requirements. Because we often use software and source material that your staff use every day, this can be an engaging, cost-effective way to approach training. Plus, it gets results.

Course plans

Onestudy recognise the pressure which training can have not only on an organisations budget but also the loss of chargeable time which extensive days out of the office to complete a professional qualification can bring.

Our timetables have been structured to incorporate weekend and/or evening tuition to minimise the loss of chargeable time.

Notes

We know that you can read! Powerpoint slides on screen with a tutor droning on is not our style! We want to teach skills not just knowledge, and our courses are constructed as interactive workbooks to encompass this aim. We also preach the importance of learning for remembering in our exam programmes and have designed innovative study aids to keep you motivated - check out our mindmaps and 'exam buster' passcards.

Our ACCA notes are provided by Accountancy Tuition Centre, we have chosen this partner as they fit with our philosophy.
